
by

Katharine Donato, Ph.D.
Professor of Sociology
Vanderbilt University

Friday, September 27, 2013
3:30 pm

Business Administration Building, Room B-29
University at Albany – Main Campus

Katharine Donato received her PhD degree in Sociology at SUNY-Stony Brook. Her research interests include international migration between Mexico and the U.S., social determinants of health, immigrants in the U.S. economy, and ethnic and gender stratification. Her current research projects include a tri-city project that examines immigrant parent involvement in schools. She has had research grants from NSF, Russell Sage Foundation, William and Flora Hewlett Foundation as well as Vanderbilt’s Center for Nashville Studies. Katharine Donato has published her research in International Migration Review, Journal of Marriage and the Family, Annual Review of Sociology and Work and Occupations among other journals.

Reception following talk