

8TH ANNUAL LEWIS MUMFORD LECTURE

Co-Sponsored by
The Center for Social & Demographic Analysis

"What has the Internet done to community, and vice versa?"

By

Barry Wellman

S.D. Clark Professor of Sociology

Director of NetLab

University of Toronto

Tuesday, March 20, 2007 at 3:30 pm
Terrace Lounge
Campus Center
University at Albany

Professor Wellman's research examines virtual community, the virtual workplace, social support, community, kinship, friendship, and social network theory and methods. He does research at the Centre for Urban and Community Studies and was a committee member of the Social Science Research Council's (and Ford Foundation's) Program on Information Technology, International Cooperation and Global Security. He is the (co-)author of more than two hundred articles, co-authored with more than eighty scholars, and is the (co-)editor of three books.

Reception Immediately Following