

Center for Social and Demographic Analysis and
Lewis Mumford Center

COLLOQUIUM

“The Environmental Problem and Protection in Transitional China”

by

Han Ling

Associate Professor
School of Environmental Science
Peking University

Friday, March 9, 2007 at 3:30 pm

Business Administration BA B-29 University at Albany

Professor Han’s research has focused on environmental planning and management, including integrated social-economic-environmental planning and decision making in river valleys, environmental policy, regional sustainable development studies, and industrial ecology especially solid waste management.

(Reception immediately following presentation!)